

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

ARTHUR GASPARD,

Plaintiff,

v.

A. HEDGPETH, et al.,

Defendants.

No. C 12-1058 YGR (PR)

ORDER OF SERVICE;

ORDER DIRECTING DEFENDANTS TO FILE DISPOSITIVE MOTION OR NOTICE REGARDING SUCH MOTION;

INSTRUCTIONS TO CLERK

INTRODUCTION

This is a federal civil rights action filed pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 by a pro se state prisoner. The Court now reviews the complaint pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a).

Defendants are directed to file a dispositive motion or notice regarding such motion on or before January 24, 2013, unless an extension is granted. The Court further directs that defendants are to adhere to the new notice provisions detailed in Sections 2.a and 10 of the conclusion of this order.

DISCUSSION

A. Standard of Review

A federal court must conduct a preliminary screening in any case in which a prisoner seeks redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity.

1 See 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a). In its review, the court must identify any cognizable claims and
 2 dismiss any claims that are frivolous, malicious, fail to state a claim upon which relief may
 3 be granted or seek monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. See id.
 4 § 1915A(b)(1),(2). Pro se pleadings must be liberally construed. See Balistreri v. Pacifica
 5 Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1988).

6 A “complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to ‘state a claim
 7 to relief that is plausible on its face.’” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 129 S.Ct. 1937, 1949 (2009)
 8 (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). “A claim has facial 9 plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the 10 reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Id. (quoting
 11 Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556). Furthermore, a court “is not required to accept legal conclusions
 12 cast in the form of factual allegations if those conclusions cannot reasonably be drawn from 13 the facts alleged.” Clegg v. Cult Awareness Network, 18 F.3d 752, 754–55 (9th Cir. 1994).
 14 To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two essential elements:
 15 (1) that a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and 16 (2) that the alleged violation was committed by a person acting under the color of state law.
 17 See West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

18 B. Legal Claims

19 Plaintiff alleges that defendants S. Hatton, D. Shaffer, J. Souza, and J. Crosby, his 20 jailors at Salinas Valley State Prison, knowing that he was vulnerable, placed him in a cell
 21 with other inmates, one of which raped him. When liberally construed, this is a cognizable
 22 Eighth Amendment claim under § 1983.

23 CONCLUSION

24 For the foregoing reasons, the Court orders as follows:

- 25 1. The Clerk of the Court shall issue summons and the United States
 26 Marshal shall serve, without prepayment of fees, a copy of the complaint in this matter, all
 27 attachments thereto, and a copy of this order upon the following defendants at Salinas Valley
 28

1 State Prison: S. Hatton, D. Shaffer, J. Souza, and J. Crosby. The Clerk shall also mail
2 courtesy copies of the complaint and this order to the California Attorney General's Office.

3 2. No later than ninety (90) days from the date of this order, defendants shall file
4 a motion for summary judgment or other dispositive motion with respect to the claims in the 5 complaint found to be cognizable above.

6 a. If defendants elect to file a motion to dismiss on the grounds plaintiff
7 failed to exhaust his available administrative remedies as required by 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a),
8 defendants shall do so in an unenumerated Rule 12(b) motion pursuant to Wyatt v. Terhune,
9 315 F.3d 1108, 1119–20 (9th Cir. 2003), cert. denied Alameida v. Terhune, 540 U.S. 810
10 (2003). Plaintiff is “entitled to notice — similar to the notice for motions for summary
11 judgment described in Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952 (9th Cir.1998) (en banc) — 12 explaining the requirements for a response to” a motion to dismiss for failure to 13 exhaust administrative remedies. Stratton v. Buck, No. 10-35656, slip op. 11477, 11483
14 (9th Cir. Sept. 19, 2012).

15 b. Any motion for summary judgment shall be supported by adequate
16 factual documentation and shall conform in all respects to Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of 17 Civil Procedure. Defendants are advised that summary judgment cannot be granted, nor 18 qualified immunity found, if material facts are in dispute. If any defendant is of the opinion
19 that this case cannot be resolved by summary judgment, he shall so inform the Court prior to 20 the date the summary judgment motion is due.

21 3. Plaintiff's opposition to the dispositive motion shall be filed with the Court and 22 served on defendants no later than forty-five (45) days from the date defendants' motion is 23 filed.

24 a. In the event the defendants file an unenumerated motion to dismiss
25 under Rule 12(b), plaintiff is hereby cautioned as follows:

26 The defendants have made a motion to dismiss pursuant to Rule 12(b) of the 27 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, on the ground you have not exhausted your administrative remedies. The motion will, if granted, result in the dismissal of your case. When a party you are suing makes a motion to dismiss for failure to exhaust, and that motion is properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony) and/or documents, you may not simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or documents, that contradict the facts shown in the defendant's declarations and documents and show that you have in fact exhausted your claims. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, the motion to dismiss, if appropriate, may be granted and the case dismissed.

b. In the event defendants file a motion for summary judgment, the Ninth Circuit has held that the following notice should be given to plaintiffs:

The defendants have made a motion for summary judgment by which they seek to have your case dismissed. A motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case. Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact — that is, if there is no real dispute about any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who asked for summary judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case. When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in the defendants' declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is granted in favor of defendants, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial. See Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 963 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc). Plaintiff is advised to read Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317 (1986) (holding party opposing summary judgment must come forward with evidence showing triable issues of material fact on every essential element of his claim). Plaintiff is cautioned that failure to file an opposition to defendants' motion for summary judgment may be deemed to be a consent by plaintiff to the granting of the motion, and granting of judgment against plaintiff without a trial. See Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53–54 (9th Cir. 1995) (per curiam); Brydges v. Lewis, 18 F.3d 651, 653 (9th Cir. 1994).

4. Defendants shall file a reply brief no later than fifteen (15) days after plaintiff's opposition is filed.

5. The motion shall be deemed submitted as of the date the reply brief is due. No hearing will be held on the motion unless the Court so orders at a later date.

6. All communications by the plaintiff with the Court must be served on defendants, or defendants' counsel once counsel has been designated, by mailing a true copy of the document to defendants or defendants' counsel.

7. Discovery may be taken in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. No further court order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(a)(2) or Local Rule 16-1 is required before the parties may conduct discovery.

8. It is plaintiff's responsibility to prosecute this case. Plaintiff must keep the court informed of any change of address and must comply with the court's orders in a timely fashion. Failure to do so may result in the dismissal of this action for failure to prosecute pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b).

9. Extensions of time must be filed no later than the deadline sought to be extended and must be accompanied by a showing of good cause.

10. A recent decision from the Ninth Circuit requires that pro se prisoner-plaintiffs be given "notice of what is required of them in order to oppose" summary judgment motions at the time of filing of the motions, rather than when the court orders service of process or otherwise before the motions are filed. Woods v. Carey, No. 09-15548, slip op. 7871, 7874 (9th Cir. July 6, 2012). Defendants shall provide the following notice to plaintiff when they file and serve any motion for summary judgment:

The defendants have made a motion for summary judgment by which they seek to have your case dismissed. A motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case.

Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact — that is, if there is no real dispute about any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who asked for summary judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case. When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in the defendants' declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is granted, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial.

Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 962–63 (9th Cir. 1998).
